In an effort to help incoming SOCA, you will be responsible for the same events that the current SECA is in charge of from your region. If you do not have a current SECA for your region, you will be matched with another region. You will need to talk to the current SECA in your region and discuss their responsibilities prior to conference. You will also need to bring an additional chaperone with you if you have more students than your incoming SOC, as you will be busy most of the conference.
